Search Under Way for New Directors

The Board of Directors of The Matthew 25 Center has begun searching for new directors for the Center. The current directors, Jimmy and Anita Joseph, have announced their retirement to be effective at the end of December. They will have served just over six years in this capacity. They are planning to move to Tennessee and spoil their granddaughter!

The Board has posted the following job description for the position:

The Matthew 25 Center in Burgaw, NC offers a unique job opportunity to a married couple, with a passion for service, as live-in directors. The center is a Christian non-profit organization serving the needs of families affected by incarceration. Services include providing lodging for those visiting area correctional facilities and participation in partnerships with other prison ministry organizations. The job consists of a wide variety of duties including administration, promotion, assisting families, hosting prison ministry groups, housekeeping, and building maintenance. An efficiency apartment is provided in the center for the directors.

The organization is overseen and supported by a Board of Directors and has an established number of community volunteers. Ideal candidates should possess superb communication skills, computer and technology skills, the ability to work within budgetary guidelines and understand non-profit organization needs.

Please submit resume with cover letter via email to the attention of the Board of Directors to matthew25@bizec.rr.com. We will also respond to inquiries upon request.

No time limit has been set on receiving resumes, but the Board would like to have new directors in place before the Josephs leave. If you would like more information about the position, you may feel free to talk with the Josephs. They will be happy to answer your questions about the Center and its ministry to inmate families. The Josephs can be reached at 910-259-7133 or at the Center's e-mail address.
